DESCRIPCIÓN

Durante las labores de monitorización llevadas a cabo en la Oficina de Coordinación de Ciberseguridad, se ha detectado en una web del entorno yihadista afín a Dáesh, un llamamiento a atacar tanto a la policía como a los manifestantes en las protestas que tienen lugar en varios países europeos. La publicación menciona concretamente a España y, junto a la incitación a llevar a cabo los ataques, se ofrecen consejos sobre cómo perpetrarlos, sugiriendo el uso de explosivos o cuchillos. Al hilo del mensaje otros usuarios aconsejan llevar a cabo la acción mediante atropellamientos.

En los ataques con explosivos se recomienda el martirio, es decir: la inmolación del atacante. Por otro lado, en los ataques con cuchillos, se explican las longitudes que el arma debe tener para infligir el máximo daño posible, así como las zonas del cuerpo donde el ataque «garantiza el éxito».

El texto afirma que, el elevado número de manifestantes, en el caso de Francia, ofrece una «rara y valiosa oportunidad de atacarlos». Añade que, la policía se convierte en una presa fácil durante los forcejeos con los manifestantes.

Protests are going on in: France, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

It is no secret to any Muslim that disbelievers in general, and these Crusader nations in particular, have shed Muslim blood relentlessly. This requires us to respond to them forcefully, to avenge the pure blood of our people that has been shed (and continues to be shed) and to deter them away from further harming Muslims.

Targets:

- Protesters/ Rioters: estimates show that the number of protesters in France alone has surpassed 800,000 people, this is a rare and valuable opportunity for a brother to take action and attack them, additionally the protesters are currently clashing with the police, which means they aren't receiving protection, making them an easy hunt

• Police:

As the police are busy clashing with the rioters a masked brother could attack the police with a vest or a knife

Ways to Attack:

- Explosives: Preferably an istishhadi operation, ways to learn how to make them are available with our brothers in Al Saqri foundation

- Knives: The knives length should range between 12.7cm and 17cm to achieve maximum damage.

Note: Weapon concealment is required for the attack not to be foiled, and for one not to lose their element of surprise.

Tips on using a knife,

There are 5 main areas where if one attacks its, by the will of Allah only, a guaranteed success. These points are:

a). the Trachea. By cutting or applying intense pressure to it the airway is obstructed, which can lead to loss of consciousness due to oxygen deprivation.

b). The internal carotid artery. An injury to it may cause a serious disruption in blood flow to the brain.

c). The Heart. A difficult but high value target. Difficulty to target the heart comes down to two problems:

i) The heart is protected by the ribs in the ribcage, therefore the attacker, and the knife, have to be strong enough to get through.

ii) Direct confrontation with the target weakens the element of surprise.

d). The kidneys. Targeting the kidneys weakens the enemy, allowing them to be easier to take down, they could later be killed by slitting their throat or cutting their arteries.

Note: Attacking a single kidney is sufficient to inflict damage.

e). Arteries located in the thigh. The goal of this hit is to confuse and disrupt the target. It further causes severe pain due to the severed arteries or the torn muscle, this pain provides the attacker with enough opportunity to kill the target.

Note: the attacker must ensure knife is sharp and capable of such blows.

Advice:

1. Seek help from Allah
2. Keep your intentions pure
3. Don't get arrested
4. Fight until you die doing so.
